UNDER THE . . . CAPITOL DOME

WASHINGTON (UP).—President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser dimmed hopes today that congressional budget-cutting might pave the way for tax reductions this year.

The official, Gabriel Hauge, said that House cuts in President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget were not nearly enough to pull down the level of government spending next year. But Hauge held out hopes for a tax cut later.

He said the administration is determined to scale down federal expenses to the point where a tax reduction would be possible during the last three years of Eisenhower's second term.

Hauge said on a television program Sunday that a surplus of "several billion dollars" first will have to be in sight before he will favor any tax cuts.

He said that "not all or even half" of the billion dollars which the House knocked out of the budget will result in lower federal spending next year.

He said some of the reductions were made in appropriations which will not be used until future years rather than actually be spent in fiscal 1958.

Other congressional news:

POSTAL—The House prepared to take up a 41 million dollar emergency appropriations bill for the Post Office Department to permit a return to full service. House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass) predicted the measure will pass both houses in time to restore normal service by Saturday.

USIA — Sen. Allen J. Ellender called for even deeper cuts in the budget of the U.S. Information Agency than already voted by the House Appropriations Committee. Ellender said some of the agency's programs are "just a waste of funds." The House committee has lopped 38 million dollars off President Eisenhower's request for 144 million dollars for the agency.

AID—Presidential economic adviser Gabriel Hauge said Eisenhower planned to put up a real fight to keep Congress from making big cuts in his $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program. Hauge said, "I think the President is going to make a very forthright attempt to lay the facts before the people on this very important subject."

DEPRESSED AREAS—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce told the Senate Banking Committee that it is "unnecessary" to set up a special government program to aid the nation's economically depressed areas. But the United Mine Workers told the committee that the government has "consistently neglected" such chronic unemployment areas while it has been aiding underdeveloped nations and "nations that are not underdeveloped."

Jordan Warns Israel

By GEORGE BITAR
United Press Staff Correspondent

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP). — Jordan today warned Israel that "any act of provocation or aggression" will be met by force, Damascus Radio reported.

The broadcast heard here said that a representative of King Hussein of Jordan visited all foreign embassies and legations in Amman this morning and asked them to inform their governments that "any act of provocation or aggression by Israel against Jordan will be met by the Jordanian army by force."

All embassies and legation promised to inform their governments immediately, the broadcast added.

◆ ◆ ◆

Sends Personal Message.

The warning followed reports that tthe 21-year-old king, who ousted nationalist - minded Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar as chief of staff of the Jordanian army Sunday, also had demanded that Syrian troops be withdrawn from the country.

The reports said Hussein had sent a personal message to Syrian President Shukri el Kuwatly demanding that the approximately 3,000 Syrian troops were entered at the time of the Suez crisis to bolster Jordan's defenses against Israel be withdrawn immediately.

It was alleged that Syrian officers had taken part in subversive activities which resulted in Sunday's abortive coup by the same elements of the Jordanian army.

◆ ◆ ◆

Riots Touched Off.

Damascus radio reported that Hussein had sent a message to Kuwatly but said it resulted from a Syrian inquiry over the situation in Jordan.

The king acted after he seized power in a coup that exiled his principal political and military opponents and touched off clashes and riots in several Jordan cities.

Informed sources in Lebanon said all that kept Hussein in power was Arab fears of an attack by Israel — fear that Israel would invade Jordan should civil war break out or should Syria and Egypt try to partition Jordan.

Recovery Of Eden Expected

BOSTON (UP). — Sir Anthony Eden has "reasonable prospects" of a complete recovery from the recurring illness which forced his retirement as British prime minister, his physician said today.

Dr. Richard B. Cattell of the Lahey Clinic, Eden's surgeon, said his general condition was satisfactory and that he withstood well surgery Saturday. Dr. Cattell said Eden suffered a mild fever Sunday, but that it was a normal post-operative condition.

Saturday was the fourth time in as many years that the 59-year old diplomat has undergone major surgery to delieve a bile duct obstruction. Dr. Cattell said there were "reasonable prospects" of complete recovery after the operation.

"IKE" PLANS FIGHT

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (UP). — President Eisenhower plans to make a real fight to rescue his $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program from the congressional economy axe, his chief economic adviser reveals.

Gabriel Hauge, administrative assistant to the President for ecohas "spoken out several times already" on the subject of his aid program for foreign nations.

"I think the President is going to make a very forthright attempt to lay the facts before the people on this very important subject," Hauge said. He did not indicate the matter in which the chief executive will seek to bring his arguments before the public.

◆ ◆ ◆

Appears on TV Show.

Previously the President has sometimes taken the means of a speech or a special radio-TV address to the nation to get across proposals he is particularly anxious to explain.

Hague discussed the aid program Sunday in an interview on the ABC television program "College Press Conference."

Earlier Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey D-Minn., a long-time supporter of foreign aid, said Sharp congressional cuts in the President's aid rogram can be avoided only if Eisenhower "really goes to work on it."

◆ ◆ ◆

Idea Supported.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce recommended today that the aid budget for the 12 months starting July 1 to be cut from the $4,400,000,000 Eisenhower asked to $3,600,000,000 — a slash of $800,000,000.

Industrialist, And Relatives Due In Sweden Today

MALMOE, Sweden (UP). — A Chicago industrialist with 70 relatives and employes in tow arrives here today by chartered plane in enthusiastic welcome from his native country.

The industrialist is Ragnar Benson, 57, who rose from an immigrant $5-a-week bricklayer's apprentice to the head of an 80-million-dollar-a-year industrial engineering firm.

Benson picked up the $50,000 tab for the three week vacation for which he chartered a Scandinavian airlines DC6B flagship. He told 300-wishers at Chicago Airport it was his "way of saying thanks."

"Thanks to all the people who have helped me and thanks to the most wonderful country in the world—the United States."

Swedish authorities ordered a band to Bulltofta Airport to play for the landing, filmed by a movie company and by television men from Denmark and southern Sweden. Cameramen also were filming the bus trip to Benson's home in Aelmhult, 100 miles from Malmoe.

Beck Headed For Texas To Stand 'Trial' At Meeting

★ ★ ★

By JOHN COLTON

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP)—Dave Beck, storm center of the giant probe-plagued Teamsters Union, is headed for Galveston today to stand "trial" before the union's 13-member executive board, but the whereabouts of Beck, accused of loose-handling of $320,000 in union funds . . . how he was traveling . . . or when . . . or if . . . he was expected to arrive was a moot question.

Beck's plans were blacked out even to the union's public relations spokesmen. All they could say was that Beck was expected "sometime this afternoon."

◆ ◆ ◆

Beck's Plans Vague

Tony Smith, an executive in the international organization's public relations branch, said:

"We are as much in the dark about Mr. Beck's plans as you are. He has been on the West Coast with him but no luck."

Smith said it was "impossible" to tell where Beck might be but that all the union's officers were expected to attend the executive board meeting in the Galveston Hotel today and Tuesday.

"But, of course, we can't be he said.

A Text Of Strength

Beck and the 12 vice presidents of the stormy labor organization target of "corruption" charges were meeting secretly today. An "open-agenda session" at 11 a.m. Tuesday is expected to produce sensational stategy for the strife-ridden union.

One of the big points on the agenda is expected to be a test of Beck's strength within the union. Beck, who invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times at a Senate hearing into his activities, reportedly wants the Teamsters Union to snub a May 6 "corruption" hearing by the AFL-CIO.

A reported majority of the executive board was said to favor defending the union at the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee hearing. The membership was also reported dissident. Some locals hung Beck in effigy, others were startingly loyal.

◆ ◆ ◆

Reserve 16 Rooms

Also at stake was Beck's re-election next September.

About the only thing un-secret about the meeting was the fact that the teamsters reserved a block of 16 rooms at the hotel for tonight, plus Parlor C for the meeting room Tuesday.

Also that Einar O. Mohn, administrative vice president in charge of the teamsters Washington headquarters, was due to arrive in Houston by plane at 2:03 p.m. today.

Smith told newsmen that the agenda for the meeting was "wide-open."

"It's open for any subject," he said, adding, "I suggest that you be there."

◆ ◆ ◆

Miller In Chicago

Galveston teamster chief A. A. Nelson said he had "no idea" what the meeting plans were and did not know "who is coming, when or why." He did say the reservations were made by M. W. Miller of Dallas, Teamsters' Southern Conference executive.

Miller was last reported in Chicago, presumably in touch with Beck.

Labor observers look on Tuesday's meeting, starting at 11 a.m., as possibly "the most decisive" get-together of the 1,325,000-member union's leaders.

The Teamsters have had much publicized troubles with Congress, racketeers, missing funds, unauthorized loans, and faces possible ouster by the AFL-CIO.

Search To Resume For Missing Pair

ARTESIA, N. M. (UP). — A search over Southeastern New Mexico for a light plane with two aboard missing on a flight from Artesia to El Paso, was expected to resume today.

The plane, a Piper "Tri-pacer," was piloted by Barry Beadle of Artesia. It has been missing since its takeoff from Artesia early Saturday. Don Walker, also of Artesia, was believed aboard the plane.

A hunt was called off Sunday night because of darkness. Officials said the craft had enough gas to fly within a 600-mile radius of Artesia before running out of fuel.

Negro Man Is Fatally Burned

HOUSTON (UP). — A 36-year-old Negro man who told a neighbor he wanted to die was fatally burned when fire gutted his small apartment Sunday.

The victim, Fred Gardner, died in a hospital Sunday night.

Gardner was pulled off a flaming bed by the neighbor's son, Roosevelt Brown. Gardner had second and third degree burns over most of his body. Brown was burned on the leg during the rescue.

Firemen found a gasoline can in the room. Officers said it was obvious Gardner had soaked the bed with gasoline.

Brown's mother told police Gardner told her he wanted to die because his estranged wife had falsely accused him of infidelity.

RAINS STRIKE TEXAS

(By United Press)

New rains hit Texas today as the weather abruptly switched back to spring from the weekend's brief return to winter.

Farmers in about half the state need warm, dry weather to plant crops and to allow seed already in the ground to germinate. Wet, cold weather already has reduced plantings in some parts of the state.

Rain was falling today from the lower coast northward to San Angelo and Lubbock. Another shower area developed early today within a 60-mile radius of Waco and more showers fell around Dallas and Fort Worth.

◆ ◆ ◆

Panhandle Still Cold.

Five-day forecasts issued by the U. S. weather bureau today called for moderate to heavy showers and thundershowers over the eastern half of Texas through Saturday. The western half can expect light to moderate rain during the early part of the week and again over the weekend.

Last week's cold wave which first hit the Panhandle Thursday still was breaking record low temperatures early today. But far to the south, Laredo had a low of 49 for the lowest ever recorded there for this late in the year.

Agriculture experts said it still was too early to determine what damage the freeze did to young vegetation in East and North Texas. They said some tender grain probably was bitten by the freeze and tomato plants may have suffered some damage.

Damage to some plants doesn't show up sometimes until the plants mature, experts said.

◆ ◆ ◆

More Showers Forecast.

Soil moisture over the eastern two-thirds of Texas now is the best it has been in years. Moisture conditions also were in good shape in the Panhandle and south Plains.

Skies were heavily overcast across the state except in the Panhandle and west of the Pecos. Scattered showers and thundershowers cloudy skies and warming temperatures were forecast over Texas through Tuesday.

Low temperatures today ranged from 39 at Amarillo to 60 at Galveston and Corpus Christi. Rainfall overnight amounted to .38 of an inch at Laredo, .36 at Brownsville

2,000 Negroes Per Month Stream Into Chicago For Integration, Opportunities

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series on segregation.

By EVERETT R. IRWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (UP).—Here in the nation's second largest city, a 17-year-old honor student recently was beaten to death by white youths who said they were "out to get a Negro."

In Boston, a Negro who defended his white girl friend against jeers of "white trash" was kicked to death. Five white men were arrested.

In New York, the huge Negro population is mainly concentrated in Harlem and many school districts are gerrymandered so that Negro children are kept away from white.

Race incidents and problems are by no means confined to the South.

The difference — and it's a big one — is that the non-South has a policy of integration whereas the South has a policy of segregation.

◆ ◆ ◆

Stream From South.

For the past 15 years, more and more Negroes have left the South in search of brighter opportunities and integrated living conditions. By bus, train and jalopy they stream into Chicago 2,000 per month. Today two persons in 10 are Negro. They made up 11 per cent of New York's population, 15 per cent in Cleveland, 20 per cent in Detroit.

It is nothing like the 50 to 85 per cent Negro population of some southern communities but it is giving the northern cities some very real social, economic and civil rights problems.

Edwin C. Berry, director of the Chicago Urban League, said recently that 23 schools on the South Side "Black Belt" are "as segregated as those in Talmadgeland" of Georgia.

New York has made great steps in integration of theaters, parks, playgrounds and churches but segregation in private housing projects is commonplace.

◆ ◆ ◆

Negroes Still Grouped.

Although Cleveland, with an 80 per cent rise in Negroes in 10 years, has one of the best records in race relations, an estimated 98 per cent of them still are grouped in one central area.

Detroit is a leader in equalizing job opportunities and today the Motor City uses only job fitness as a measuring rod for hiring personnel in department stores and in clerical, secretarial and engineering work.

One significant thing is that public and social agencies in the North put their best foot forward on the race issue, emphasizing what is being done to improve relations. But cities such as Chicago and New York cannot hide the dangerous situation of Negro and white gangs with a high crime and narcotic rate.

(Copyrighted 1955, A National Council of Churches Religious Features)

Hear us, O God of grace, on behalf of those who have lost the joy that once they had. Lift them out of the indifference and the self-centered habits into which they have fallen. Restore to them the joy of thy salvation. Bring them back into the fellowship of thy people, the fellowship of love and and grateful well-doing. HISTORIAL BRITISH DECISION

THE REVOLUTIONARY changes Britain has decreed in its military policy seem destined to rank as one of the landmarks of the postwar decades.

Seldom if ever in military history has anything so drastic been proposed. By 1962 Britain's 700,000-man army will be slashed nearly in two, reduced to the size of Spain's. Along the way, in 1960, the draft will be abolished.

The Royal Navy, once the protector of peace on the seven seas, will be stripped of all battlesships. It will be reorganized around fast carrier forces able to speed to trouble spots.

The RAF fighter command, savior of Britain in 1940, will slowly be scrapped, to be replaced by a guided missile defense system.

Research on superbombers and supersonic aircraft generally will be halted, and all energy focussed on rockets and missiles, especially with nuclear warheads.

Those are the bald facts. Their significance for Britain, for the United States and for all the West is tremendous.

1. This astonishing switch reflects the impact of nuclear force and electronically guided weapons upon modern warfare an ddefense. Other nations, including America, seem sure to move in the same direction, though perhaps without such sweeping speed.

2. The heavy cuts in conventional defense tell one of the painful facts of Britain's life: it no longer has the strength to hold up economically under the weight of a really huge military establishment.

3. In acknowledging this, the British also are conceding openly what they and others have known for some time. They are heavily dependent upon the United States for survival in the struggle with hostile Communism. This move casts out all pretense.

4. At the same time it appears to raise a grave question whether Britain and others now turning more fully toward "all-out" weapons will have left any real means at all for fighting small, "conventional" wars which might erupt in minor sore spots.

5. By its frank reliance upon America, by its clear purpose to give its civilian welfare economy greater ascendancy, Britain in this historic change may encourage other West European peoples to follow suit. The result might only be still heavier burdens upon the United States.

Even if no train of events is started through France, West Germany, Italy, the Lowlands and elsewhere, the net effect manifestly is a loss of defensive power in Europe against an aggressive Kremlin.

Conversely, however, Britain's turn to nuclear arms will mean a vastly heightened retaliatory power which may offet to a substantial degree the losses in conventional manpower and weapons.

Together with America's nuclear arsenal, the total effect could be an increased deterrent against a third world war.

All the meanings of this move cannot possibly be clear so early after the fact. But it is plain that the military structure of the entire wester nworld is never likely to be the same again.

A turning point has been passed.

Pentagon Suggestion Box Yields Wry Proposal for Naming Missile

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA). — A Pentagon suggestion box recently yielded this idea for a new guided name: Call it "The Civil Servant." Explanation: It doesn't work and you can't fire it.

TWO LITTLE SHAVERS visiting the Smithsonian Institution were gazing interestedly at the famed Spirit of St. Louis airplane when one of them spotted a tall, slim man also examining the plane.

"Holy smoke," one of the boys whispered, "there's Lindbergh."

"You must be nuts," said the other.

"Bet you a million he is because I just saw his picture in the paper," the first boy said. "I'll get his autograph and prove it."

The tall, slim man obliged with a smile when the boy asked "autograph, mister?"

The lad returned to his pal, crestfallen.

"Guess you win the million," the boy said, "this guy signs himself James Stewart, whoever he is."

Actor Jimmy Stewart tells this on himself. He just finished the movie "Spirit of St. Louis," and the other day when in town he decided to have a look at the real thing.

"THE PRESIDENT looks wonderful. You'd never even notice his so-called cough if there hadn't been so much ballynoo about it. He's in great spirits and has a lot of pep. And that Mamie. She's a darling and so happy and pleasant."

That's a fresh, firsthand report on the President's health and outlook given by Mrs. John Vekous, big-shot Republican gal from Wyoming. She was in town to escort Ike to a big GOP women's powwow here and spent more than an hour with him.

"I half expected to have him carried in on a stretcher the way they've been writing about his health," she said. "I think he looks much better than he did when I talked to him during the campaign."

VICE PRESIDENT Richard M. Nixon has revealed this untold story of the 1956 presidential campaign: Nixon made a speech in Seattle just before election day. But on the airport trip, as a gag, the correspondents accompanying him put Nixon in the press car and made Frank Holeman, six-foot-four president of the Press Club at the time, ride in the open car with the beauteous Mrs. Nixon. Holeman acknowledged all the cheers and made the bows while Pat smiled as the car sped through the crowd-lined streets. "And that's why we carried Seattle by such a large majority," explained Nixon.

NEARBY Laurel race track is open and Pakistan Ambassador Mohammed Ali has stolen the spotlight as the No. 1 celebrity fan from FBI boss J. Edgar Hoover. Reason is, Ali has had a streak of phenomenal luck at the betting window as a result of a secret new system. And that system can now be revealed here, almost from the horse's mouth.

He bets only on horses from a blood line started by the famous racer Mahmud. That's his son's name.

His goal, during his assignment in the States, is to visit every U.S. mile track at least one. He's about half through with this project. Ali raises his own racing horses, which he thinks would do well against American racers.

• WHAT OTHERS SAY

RADAR A WITNESS?

An interesting point of law with regard to radar detection of speeders has been raised by a Chicago municipal court judge.

Judge Henry C. Ferguson of Chicago has dismissed 20 speeding charges filed by members of police radar teams in his court. He held that a policeman watching a radar receiver is not an eyewitness to a traffic violation. He went further to say that radar evidence of speeding violates the Illinois Constitution by preventing a defendant the right to meet witnesses against him in court.

Article 1, Section 10 of the Texas Constitution provides that in all criminal prosecutions the defendant "shall be confronted by the witnesses against him . . ." This right presumably goes to misdemeanor cases also, such as speeding.

What is a witness? It would be difficult to argue that a radar machine produced in court is a witness, if for no other reason than the fact that a machine cannot be cross-examined. Its operators can, however, and their testimony may satisfy the requirements for admissable evidence. The question of whether a radar operator and his machine are eyewitnesses presents a novel point, however.

The Chicago judge's action unfortunatey does not open the way for a final determination of the question. It probably will discourage the filing of similar charges in his court. But the constitutional point raised cannot finally be determined until a convicted defendant carries his appeal to a court of last resort. In the meantime the ultimate legality of radar speed trapping will be a conversation piece for attorneys and their clients-defendant. — Greenville Herald Banner.

NEW YORK (UP). — Pat Carroll, whose clowning on the Sid Ceasar show won her an Emmy award, would lake to set the record straight — she's not a comic.

"I think of myself as a performer. And what I do best are character sketches," said Pat Thursday. "I'm not even sure that I think of myself as a 'comedienne.' A cemedienne, I think, is a lady who creates most of her own material. I'm not creative that way.

"I don't think of myself as Pat Carroll that hysterically funny woman. Unlike, say, Martha Raye, I can't get up and hold an audience by mself. I'm not humble pie about it, it's just that I can't get up and clown. They have to put words in my mouth and once they give me the words and the chracter, why, I can go out and do it."

"I don't know how I landed on the Ceasar show," said Pat, who plays Howie Morris' wife on the TV hour. "I'm under contract to NBC she has two years to go on a five-year pact and I'm kind of on a loan-out to Sid.

"I didn't even think Sid knew I existed when he called me up and asked me if I wanted to be on his show. That was last January, February or March. I didn't even see him again until rehearsals in the fall."

Pat missed the first two Caesar shows because of the late arrival of her baby, Sean. "Sid was really wonderful about it," said Pat "His own wife, Florence, had been three weeks late with her baby that summer, so he told me not to worry.

TEXAS LEAGUE

(By United Press)

Dallas is the only team which finished in the Texas League's first division last year that holds an upper half place Monday as the infant season moves into its second day.

Dallas, which finished second to Houston both in the regular season and the playoffs last year, dumped Fort Worth, a third-place finisher last year, 5-1 Sunday.

Oklahoma City had one of its rare flings at the first division with a 6-5 win over Tulsa. The Indians finished in last place in 1956, 48 games out of the running. Tulsa took fourth last year.

◆ ◆ ◆

Missions Romp.

San Antonio, a fifth-place finisher last season, smothered Austin 17-4, and Shreveport, which finished seventh stopped Houston 3-1 Austin finished sixth.

Cold weather brought small turn outs for the openers, with a crowd of 5,288 at Houston by fair the largest.

In Dallas Tommy Bowers threw a four-hitter at Fort Worth as the Cats' only run came on Catcher Mike Napoli's homer.

Stop Rally.

Oklahoma City, on the hitting of Jerry Zimmerman and Red Robsins, carried a 6-1 lead into the ninth and then beat down a Tulsa rally for the 6-5 victory. Robbins homered for the Indians and Bob Winkles rapped a solo homer for Tulsa.

San Antonio lashed out a 17-hit attack with five homers, two of them by Hank Moreno, to mangle Austin 17-4. Austin manager Sibby Sisti managed a homer for the Senators.

Shreveport stuffed all three of its runs into the sixth inning while Dave Newkirk and Charles Bogan were doing out three hits to Houston. Manager Harry Walker's pinch double scored the only Buff run in the seventh.

NEW YORK (UP). — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

A suprising number of smart boxing men think that young Tony Anthony is almost a cinch to defeat Archie Moore for the light heavyweight title when they meet, probably at Detroit June 7.

These sources, which have have financial interest in Anthony, predicted he would flatten Chuck Speiser — which he did — and they insisted that withn a year he will be battling Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title. They tout him as potentially one of the best boxers since Joe Louis and think that the 22-year-old Anthony will grow into a solid 185-pounder by next summer.

Mims The Favorite.

Holly Mims of Washington is a 2 to 1 choice to beat 22-year-old Jimmy Beecham of Philadelphia in their 10-round middleweight bout from Miami on national video next Friday night. The odds sound right considering that Beecham is noted mostly for his poety recitations while training in the gym.

All eyes will be on Bob Williams of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., at Notre Dame, Saturday. He'll quarterback the fighting Irish football varsity in its annual spring game against the "old-timers." How well he replaces Paul Hornung will tell much about Notre Dame's prospects for next season. The heaviest man in the line in front of Williams will be 215-pound Bronko Nagurski Jr.

And if he goes anything like his old man, they'll be happy, too.

Reuther Handed $4,000 Pay Raise By Auto Workers

ATANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—The United Auto Workers tonight handed a $4,000-a-year pay raise to its president, Walter P. Reuther. The move was adopted overwhelmingly.

The 3,000 delegates who attended the union's 16th constitutional convention also voted salary increases for several other union officers and other staff workers that could cost a total of $1,400,000 a year.

Reuther's new annual wage will be $22,000. The last hike he received was in 1953, when members awarded him a $6,750 increase.

Secretary Treasurer Emil Mazey and four vice-presidents each received a $4,000 increase. Mazey's new pay would be $18,000 a year and the vice-presidents will receive $16,500.

Nineteen members of the executive board also got raises, amounting to $2,500 a year.

Reuther's $22,000 a year salary was much lower than the reported peak union salaries in America. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters, and Dave McDonald, head of the steelworkers, each receives $50,000.

$107,955,122 Bid Submitted For Glen Canyon Dam

KANAB, Utah (UP).—A New York construction firm headed by financier Louis E. Wolfson today submitted an apparent low bid of $107,955,122 for construction of Glen Canyon Dam, making it the most expensive reclamation project in the nation's history.

Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp. submitted the bid on the dam, key works of the upper Colorado River development program.

The bid compared with a U.S. Bureau of Reclamation estimate of $135,608,170 as the cost of building the 700-foot high, 1,500-foot wide dam near the Utah border in Arizona.

But L. F. Lem Wylie, construction engineer for the Glen Canyon unit who opened the bids in the new Kanab High School auditorium, said the low bid was "a good bid and a complete bid" despite the $27,533,048 difference between it and the estimate.

Construction will start 30 days after the contract is awarded. Wylie said at least one of eight generators that will produce 900,000 kilowatts of power might be operating by mid-1962.

Lack Of Highways Breaks Cities And Counties--Formby

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UP)—Cunties and cities go broke because they fail to provide adequate highways in their area, Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby told a meeting of West Texas county judges and commissioners Thursday.

Formby, a Plainview attorney and former county judge, was one of a number of officials that spoke before the annual meeting of the West Texas group.

U.S. Sen.-elect Ralph Yarborough, who came to San Angelo Wednesday for an "informal visit" with members of the association, charged at a news conference that wiretapping is so bad "we are living under a semi-Gestapo system." He said it is particularly bad in the state Legislature.

Yarborough said wiretapping was used against him in political campaigns as early as 1944. He said he thinks the federal law on wiretapping is a "plenty good law to follow." It provides a fine of $5,000 and a two-year prison sentence for wiretapping.

Formby said many counties and cities go broke because they do not provide good roads and not because of the high cost of road construction and expensive right-of-ways.

He said one small industry which locates in a county because of its good road system will repay with its pay with its payroll and taxes many times the cost of right-of-way to the county.

"You don't go broke buildingg good highways," he said. "Your county does go bankrupt when it it fails to meet the demands of the people."

He said Texas will spend about 300 million dollars in 1957 on its highway system with more than one-third of this going to the state's 2,900-mile interstate system.

Religion, Medicine Near "Unified Field Theory"

CHICAGO (UP). — Religion and medicine apparently are on the threshhold of a "unified field theory" of faith and health lending to cooperation fo "men in black" and "men in white," a medical publication said today.

Cooperation between doctors and ministers were discussed in a special article and editorial in the current Journal of the American Medical Association.

The old concept of the "godless doctors" is dying out, the article said in citing the case of a Chicago physician, Dr. C. David Brown who participated in a 2½ hour struggle to revive a young man whose heart had stopped.

◆ ◆ ◆

Need Recognized.

"Actually, we never were sure throughout that we were completely alone in this thing," Brown said. "We knew we were getting some guidance."

Clergymen are developing a greater interest in medicine, especially in the field of mental health, the article said. It revealed a number of rabbis have stepped out of a synagogue leadership to become practicing psychiatrists, as have at least six North American Catholic priests.

Eleven years ago, the article said the recognition of religion at New York's Bellevue hospital was termed unique because all patients have to be seen by a minister.

Today the uniqueness had turned into an "almost matter-of-fact routine," the article said.

◆ ◆ ◆

Studies Overlap.

On May 8 Texas Medical Center's Institute of Religion, Austin, will celebrate its first anniversary. In the institute, students from five Texas theology schools are trained to minister to the sick while medical students are offered elective courses in religion.

Regionally, there are similar organizations like the National Academy of Religion and Mental Health, the editorial said, to coordinate pastoral care and clinical experience through seminars or training in hospitals.

Members of the religions and medical groups are careful not to infringe on the realm of the other, the article said, yet their viewpoints often over lap.

While each may recognize that faith is an element in the well-being of all people, ethical ministers and physicians are firmly allied against the "make healers" and both work to combat the "flamboyant cultists," the article said.

Five Billion Tax Cut Advocated By Top Republican

WASHINGTON (UP). — A highranking Republican congressman Friday advocated a five billion dollar tax cut. He said it would "force the spenders in government" to economize.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson R-Pa., introduced a tax bill Thursday to lower both individual and corporation taxes, effective Jan. 1. The bill was forwarded at a time when belief is growing that Democrats will begin early this summer a drive to cut taxes.

Simpson is third-ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee which initiates all tax legislation. The committee is composed of 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans.

Thus, even if Simpson persuades his Republican colleagues to back his bill, there would be no action on any tax relief legislation until Democrats decide to push for it.

Speaker Sam Rayburn D-Tex., who will call the signals for the Democrats said Thursday they won't be able to tell before June whether the administration's budget has been cut enough to justify reducing taxes. But he feels chances are good for a tax cut to take effect Jan. 1.

Simpson's bill would increase to $650 from the present $600 the amount of tax-exempt income allowed a taxpayer for himself and for each dependent. For most married couples this would mean a tax saving of $20 and an additional $10 for each child.

In addition the bill would make an across-the-board reduction of 5 per cent in the income tax rates on individuals and corporations.

It also would slash by half the maximum tax on capital gains — lowering it from 25 per cent to 12.5 per cent.

Col. Seagraves Wants To Try For Fortune

HOUSTON (UP). — Col. Odie R. Seagraves, an almost fabulous promoter who has made and lost two fortunes in oil and who is now under indictment in Pittsburgh, Pa. wants to try for a third fortune in the Texas Panhandle.

Seagraves, 70, has a deal with H. C. Cockburn and Thomas O. Payne of Houston to drill 12 wells to 3,000 feet in the Panhandle. He also has a 2 million-acre concession in Honduras and Guatemala.

But Seagraves will have to wait until the indictment against him, for allegedly stealing Gulf Oil Corp exploration maps, is settled and until he recovers from a gallstone ailment.

A Houston Press reporter telephoned Seagraves at his home in Greenwich, Conn. Cockburn and Payne confirmed the deal.

"Odie and I have 12 wells out in the Panhandle," Payne said.

"We're just waiting for him Seagraves to get out there and begin operations."

Cockburn said he was in a deal with Seagraves and "some other associates" on the Central American concession and was just waiting on Seagraves.

Suggestions offered on Hegari Varieties.

There is a lot of difference in the varieties of Hegari now available to Texas Farmers. According to Associate Extension Agronomist Lee Coffey, reports reached him indicate that considerable confusion exists among farmers as to the variety of Hegari they should plant.

Coffey offers these suggestions to farmers who plan to plant one of the varieties of the popular Hegari is recommended for bundle feed. Under good growing conditions, this variety will make a plant about six feet tall and is an excellent producer of forage and grain. Seed supplies are said to be on the short side.

Hi - Hegari is a compartively new variety which was developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Station as a silage crop. This variety, under good growing conditions, averages considerable taller than regular Hegari and is a heavy producer of forage. Seed of this variety have been reported from at least one section of the state as scarce.

Early Hegari grows taller than Martin Milo and is often too tall for combining. Its stalks are finer than other varieties and is recommended for hay. Seed supplies are said to be adequate.

Combine Hagari is shorter than Martin and should not be used for hay or bundle feed. Under ideal growing conditions, it is one of the beter producing grain sorghum varieties. It is however, poor grain producer under drouth conditions. It is often difficult to combine because it has poor head exsertion and dries slowly. It is rather late in comparison to ther varieties, of combine grain sorghums. Seed supplies are adequate.

Plans Underway for Sixth Texas A&M Swine Short Course.

Theme of the sixth annual Swine Short Course to be held at Texas A & M College on May 6 and 7 will be "developing a Meat Type Hog Program in Texas." The short course committee headed by T. D. Tanksley, Jr., extension animal husbandryman, emphasize that the program will be of interest to swine producers, buyers, packers, and right on down to the consumer.

A special attraction will again be the cut-out contest and here the committee invites hog producers, both junior and adults, to enter a borrow in this part of the program. Tankesley says each person may enter one barrow and it must weigh between 200 and 300 pounds when weighed in at the A & M Swine Center. Entries must be delivered to the Center either on the afternoon of May 5 or before 8 a. m. on May 6.

Tanksley says that speakers of national prominence will appear on the program and that final plans for the tow-day meeting will be announced in about two weeks. The chairman points out that the meeting is open to any one interested in the subjects to be discussed and extends an invitation to them to attend. The first session schoduled for May 6, beginning at 9:30 a. m. will be held in the Assembly Room of the Memorial Student Center.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING IS OUT OF FASHION

Spring, or fall house cleaning, for that matter, is fast going out of fashion. It's a killing job when all of it is done at one time.

Smart homemakers are learning that they will look and feel better, and appearance of the home will always rate tops if some of the special cleaning jobs are planned throughout the year, along with the regular cleaning.

Women are both managers and workers in most homes. Even women with maids will get more for their time and money if they plan ahead. Good management means choosing the best time to do a job, choosing the easiest method, and keeping supplies and cleaning equipment handy and in good condition.

Keep plans simple and flexible. Start by listing the jobs that need to be done. Decide when they should be done and make a schedule. If family members help with cleaning, decide who will do each job.

Work out the best method for doing each job. Ask yourself "what do I do and why?" Answer by checking the way you work. Chances are you will be able to eliminate steps and cut down on walking, standing, carrying, stooping and reaching.

Decide what tools and supplies will be needed for the various jobs. Locate them in the most convenient places. Small equipment and supplies can be assmbled in an open basket or box with a handle which can be carried easily from room to room. Convenient cleaning closets save time and energy and keep equipment in good condition.

Methods for cleaning walls, wordwork, floors and furnishings are given in Extension Bulletin, "Housecleaning Made Easier." Copies are available from your local home demonstration agent's office.

GET MORE GOOD FROM MILK

From soup to dessert — milk used generously in cooking can add greatly to the nourishment in meals.

When families in this country are not well fed, the nutrient they most often lack is calcium. And the main source of calcium in our food supply is milk.

Milk would be an important food if it offered no more than the mineral calcium, which is needed all life long for healthy bones.

Along with calcium, milk contains about 100 nutrients—minerals, vitamins, sugars and protein elements. Altogether, this makes milk a very special food bargain.

The protein in milk is of the best quality that food offers, so that milk can help out with protein in the same way that meat, poultry, fish and eggs do. Milk is a good source of the B vitamin riboflavin, which is another nutrient often short in the foods families choose.

Drinking milk is the simplest way to get the good from milk. But there are many opportunities in cooking to get part of the milk needed daily.

Children should have a minimum of one quart daily and adults need two or more glasses.

ON THE... FARM FRONT

By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Federal corp insurance officials complain that farmers are getting so accustomed to government assistance they've become tough prospects for crop insurance salesmen.

The federal insurance program is "somewhat unique" in the government farm program field, agriculture department officials explained in a statement filed with the House agricultural appropriations subcommittee. Farmers have to pay for crop insurance.

"They must buy this protection just as they do other insurance. It is not a case of singing up and being assured of a check for doing so," officials said.

• • •

Insurance Men Lament.

But the crop insurance officials lamented, while they've been trying to sell insurance other agriculture department agencies have been paying farmers for such things as planting conservation crops or not planting crops at all.

"It has been hard to get farmers to recognize that they must pay their way . . . under the crop insurance program when they are not required to make cash contributions to get benefits under so many other parts of the farm program," the statement added.

"This is frequently illustrated by our salesmen being told by farmers that "if our crops are that bad the government will provide us some form of free emergency assistance," crop insurance officials said.

The fetatement said "real progress" has been made in many areas but "there is still a long way to go" in the effort to persuade farmers to recognize federal crop insurance as a business-like operation.

Indemnity Payments Top.

Since the current "experimental" government crop insurance program began in 1948 indemnity payments to farmers of 190 million dollars have topped premium collections by about 17 million dollars, officials reported.

The federal insurance program expanded into 52 additional counties this year, bringing the number of eligible counties to 1,000 officials said in testimony released by the House subcommittee last week.

Crop coverage was raised from $306,742,000 last year to $401,000,000 this year. It will go up again to an estimated $445,000,000 in 1958 when the program moves into an additional 50 counties, assistant Agriculture Secretary Marvin L. McLain told the subcommittee.

F. C. McCartney, manager of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, estimated with his aides that the program will show a profit this year. He estimated premium collections at $28,333,000 and indemnity payments at $25,500,000.

The corporation has last money in six of the nine years since launching its current program. It last showed a profit in 1952.

Major 'Quake Is Recorded In California

PASADENA, Calif (UP). — A major earthquake located approximately 5,000 miles distance from Pasadena was recorded Sunday on the seismograph at the California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Charles Ritchter, seismologist, said he could not determine the direction immediately.

He reported the quake started recording at 11:29:28 a. m. Pacific Standard Time with a second large wave at 11:38:53.

In New York, Fordham University's seismologist, the Rev. Joseph Lynch, reported recording two earthquakes Sunday afternoon, one 7,200 miles way and the other 4,200 miles, and both described as of considerable force.

He calculated the location as somewhere off Japan. Allowing for time differential this was a few minutes after Dr. Richter recorded it.

The second quake was recorded at Fordham at 4:10:3 p. m., with a following shock at 4:18:48. The source, Father Lynch said, was in the Aleutians area.

Young Author Is Hurt In Speedster Crash

PARIS (UP). — Speed-loving novelist Francoise Sagan, 21, was gravely injured Sunday when she smashed up her British racing car. She sank into a coma after being carried to a Paris hospital.

Doctors said she was suffering from severe shock, internal injuries, and trauma. She showed no signs of regaining consciousness. She was placed in an oxygen tent.

Police said the car she was driving was an Aston-Martin, not a Jaguar as they first reported.

The Maillot Clinic was jammed with admirers and well-wishers as news of the accident spread.

Miss Sagan gained world wide fame as author of "Bonjour Tristeese" and "A Certain Smile." No other author has ever had such a tremendous success so young.

The accident's cause was a mystery to police.

The car somersaulted on a clear road near Paris, bounced over a wide ditch and landed upside down in a field.

The Aston-Martin was one of four high powered cars Miss Sagan bought with royalties from her sensationally successful books. The others were a German Mercedes-Benz, a Buick and a Ford Thunderbird.

Miss Sagan's father is a wealthy Paris industrialist. Sagan is her pen name; her real name is Quoirez.

Her parents were unable to reach her bedside quickly from their country home. But her brother Jacques and such friends as film producer Anatole Litvak rushed to the hospital.

Many of the French consider she represents modern youth, especially one type of American youth. She loves — and makes no secret of it — whisky, fast cars, American boy friends, and English language, American films, jazz and American soft drinks.

But her crowning passion is fast cars.

Excessive speed doubtless contributed to Sunday's crash, police said.

The young novelist has said: "I love to drive 125 miles an hour."

Last year Paris police gave her a public warning to slow down or lose her license.

Three passengers in the car with her — two men and a woman — were injured only slightly. They had been staying at the country house of fashion designer Christian Dior and gone out for a Sunday afternoon drive near Fontainbleau.

Miss Sagan's injuries were serious, but doctors said they did not believe, at first, that her skull was fractured.

Fourteen Blue Ridge High School Students Taking Tax Course

Tax education has become a very common high school subject along with the three R's, according to Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas. Blue Ridge, Texas should be proud of the find Tax Education Program being carried out at Blue Ridge School. The principals and the teachers of the High School Tax Training Program are to be congregated on the very fine job they are doing with 14 of students enrolled in the tax course.

There are approximately 1000 teachers in 782 schools teaching 36,000 high school students in the North Texas district of Internal Revenue Service who are participating in this program. On a nationwide basis there are 41,000 teachers presenting the course to approximately 3,000,000 students, including 15,000 teachers presenting the farm course to 500,000 students. Students and teachers alike find the course interesting and profitable to them in preparing the students' own tax and in helping Dad to prepare his tax return, according to Mr. Campbell. The Tax Education Program gives practical illustration to many of the other things learned in the regular high school courses. The course demonstrates the growth of Joe Johnson from his high school days through the young family man to the mature corporation executive and it teaches the high school students to solve Joe's tax problems at all stages in life. Mr. Campbell concluded that Dads would do well to seek Junior's help after he has been through the tax course.

18-Year-Old Sailor Killed In Car Collision

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (UP). — An 18-year-old sailor stationed at Norman, Okla., Naval Training Center was killed Friday night one mile South of Lewisville in a three-car collision. Five others were injured.

Phillip Finch, 18, of Dwight, Ill., was dead on arrival at Flow Memorial hospital at Denton, and E. D. Wilson, also from the Naval training center, was listed as critical. Two other Naval personnel, George Genge and Kenneth Leroy Simmons, and Mrs. Robert Gonner and her daughter, Celia Mae were injured.

Denton County Sheriff Wylie Barnes said the collision occurred when the two cars of Naval personnel entered a two-lane highway abreast on U. S. Highway 77. The cars were met by Mrs. Gonner's car traveling North, Sheriff Barnes said.

Court Of Honor Pays Tribute To The Late T. E. Craig

The Boy Scout Court of Honor held in connection with the Men of the Church meeting at the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, honored the memory of the late Thomas E. Craig, organizer of McKinney's first Boy Scout troop, and benefactor of the organization throughout his life-time.

Obe McCallum paid merited tribute to Mr. Craig in a beautiful talk honoring the city's first Scoutmaster. Mr. Craig was identified with Scout work here for some 50 years and took a vital interest in every project that concerned the youth of this area.

The Court of Honor was conducted by Paul K. Wilson, which was the major portion of the program for the regular monthly supper meeting of the Men of the Church.

A number of Scouts and Explorers of Troop 305 and Post 305 sponsored by the church, were given advances in rank and merit badges.

Vinson Shields and John Jeanes are Scoutmaster and Explorer Adviser respectively of the two above mentioned troops.

Wilkins Comegys presided over the meeting.

Rep. Powell Says Negro Will Soon Reach Equality

NEW YORK (UP). — Rep. Adams Clayton Powell Jr. said today the Negro soon will reach full equality with whites and that the nation now should concentrate on "the emancipation of the American Indian."

The New York Democrat said in a speech to the Indian League of the Americas that the movement for "full equality" for Negroes "has reached such proportions there is no power that can stop it."

"Within our generation, if not by the centennial of the emancipation proclamation—1963 — full equality will be obtained by the overwhelming majority of Negroes even in the deepest sections of the South behind the color curtain," he said.

Powell, one of three Negro members of the House, said Americans "should devote their full attention to the emancipation" of the Indian, whom he called "America's forgotten man."

Top Spokesman For Teacher Raise Sees Compromise

AUSTIN (UP).—A top spokesman for the Texas State Teachers Association said today the group will compromise their bid for 67-million dollars in pay raises — if necessary.

Charles Tennyson, executive secretary of the TSTA, told United Press, "we are still for the full increases . . . we consider the bill very conservative . . . it is inadequate in the amount requested But we are reasonable and practical. We are aware of the situation facing the Legislature."

Gov. Price Daniel told newsmen at a conference yesterday he did not know whether a compromise at a lower figure would be acceptable to the teachers.

Tennyson said it would.

• • •

Terms Daniel Generous

But he quickly pointed out the amount offered would have to be a "comfortable sum" and not "some paltry amount."

Tennyson said he would be glad to tell the governor the same thing.

"Price has been very generous in his attitude all the way through. I'd tell him the same thing I'm saying to you," he said.

The governor expressed hope teachers could get a pay raise without the necessity of a new tax bill — or a special session.

He pointed out approval of two bills before the Legislature would raise the amount available for pay boosts to about 50 million dollars.

Tennyson talked the possibility of compromise in this light.

If the Legislature turns up with 50 million dollars available, Tennyson said the TSTA "would be delighted to sit down and talk the situation over. We don't want to be put in the position of asking all or nothing. After all, the Legislature has the final decision, and rightfully so," he added.

Five Suspects Are Held In Irish Bombings

LETTERKENNY, Ireland (UP) — Five suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, including one who may be an American, have been charged with illegal possession of five tommy-guns and nearly 1,000 rounds of ammunition.

A judge here ordered the five men held without bail until Thursday.

One of the suspects identified himself of Vincent Colon, of Upper Darby, Pa.

Three telephone exchanges in British Northern Ireland were damaged Friday night by explosive charges planted by IRA dynamiters.

'Derby Junket' Is Criticized By Rep. Van Zandt

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt R-Pa. said the Army has a fine show instore for touring congressman at Ft. Knox, Ky., but that they made a "big mistake" tying the trip in with the Kentucky Derby.

Van Zandt said the military demonstration planned for the lawmakers the week end of May 3-4 is well worth the cost of flying House and Senate members from Washington to Louisville and back.

"But they made a big mistake when they told members they could stay over to see the Derby and come back the next day," Van Zandt said. "People will get the idea the whole thing is a Derby junket."

• • •

To The Races?

Van Zandt said he fears also that some members not really interested in the Army demonstration will take advantage of the free round trip flight plus free room and probably free meals as well.

Rep. Frank T. Bow R-Ohio, said the trip sounds all right to him unless the Army spends extra money on the members who elect to stay for the Derby. According to Army plans, this will entail an extra night's lodging and presumably extra meals.

Bow said it's not true though that the military always picks up the tab for the congressmen's meals on such trips. Sometimes members pay their own food bills, Bow said.

In any event neither Van Zandt nor Bow will be able to accept the Army's invitation. The Army said it has no idea yet how many others would be able to accept. A spokesman declined to say in fact just how many were being invited.

• • •

Downs Nearby.

Quarters will be provided at Ft. Knox, which is conveniently close to Louisville and Churchill Downs. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker's letter of invitation did not mention food, but other sources said free access to the offiers' mess customarily goes with the quarters.

"Dates for the running of the Kentucky Derby were not, of course, considered when plans for the Ft. Knox demonstration were originated last December, an Army spokesman said.

However, Brucker said return transportation would be arranged for congressmen who wish to stay over an extra night.

"I regret that I am not in position to make arrangements for seats at the Derby," he said.

D. Davidson Survey No. 285, the William Rice Survey No. 770 and the Epsom Hamilton Survey No. 372, said 435 acre feet being the total combined capacity of the reservoirs authorized to be constructed and maintained by said Permits Nos. 1568 and 1570. These existing dams are located at points which bear S. 31° 15' E. 4789 feet and S. 28° 0' E. 1357 feet from the Northwest corner of the Epsom Hamilton Original Survey No. 372 on the South banks of the unnamed streams in Collin County, Texas, and are distant in a Northwesterly direction from McKinney, Texas, 6.1 miles.

A hearing on the application of the said H. C. Special Jury Is Empaneled By Judge Dowdy

SHERMAN, Tex. — A special five member jury commission including two Negroes, was empaneled by 59th District Court Judge W. C. Dowdy Thursday morning to select a 16-member special grand jury.

While legally the grand jury is being called to hear same 15 or 20 cases, the calling was triggered by the recent rape of a 17-year-old Denison white girl by three teenage Denison Negroes.

The jury commission includes Russell R. Summers, Whitewright mayor; Robert Fielder, prominent Van Alstyne landowner; Willard Judd, Whitesboro merchant; and two Negroes, Ed King of Sherman and Pronceli Woods of Denison.

The commission went right to work at its task and is expected to select its 16 members before the day is out. Out of the 16, Judge Dowdy will choose a jury of 12.

The only instructions given to the commission was to select a bonafide voter who has either a poll tax receipt or exemption regardless of race, color or creed.

County Attorney Boyd Newman said he planned to bring the rape case to trial as soon as possible.

"It will head the criminal docket," he said. The other cases are mostly burglaries and thefts, he added.

Newman said he would give the three rape suspects an opportunity to appear before the grand jury after it is selected "but they have the right to refuse if they desire," he explained.

The trio so far is being held in the Dallas County jail without bond. They have no attorney and if they fail to hire one, Judge Dowdy is expected to appoint one as soon as they are indicated in order to give the defense time to prepare its case.

Newman said the actual time of the trial hinges on the judge's schedule and the calling of the special venire to try the case.

"The grand jury won't go into session before the latter part of next week and it probably will be the earliy part of May before we can officially start the docket."

The names of the grand jurors selected can not be made public until they have been certified by Judge Dowdy and registered by the district clerk, Newman explained.

Whiteheard Goes On Trial Today For Murder

PAMPA, Tex. (UP). — James William Whtieheard goes on trial today for the murder of 19-year-old Victor L. Stephens during a three-state manhunt last year.

Stephens was a member of a 200-man posse of law enforcement who hunted Whiteheard and his officers and national guardsmen, half-brother, Junior Bard Myers, through the Panhandle last December with bloodhounds. Stephens was kiled during an ecxhange of shots with the fugitives.

Whiteheard was found with his half-brother's body, and officers said he had apparently killed Myers.

District Attorney Bill Waters said prospective jurors will be qualified for the death penalty, but said he would not ask death for Whiteheard.

Man Found Dead In Motel

EL PASO, Tex. (UP). — Police believe today that Billy Brownwood, who was found dead in a motel yesterday, died of a brain hemorrhage.

London, who used to be associated with a funeral home at Brownwood, will be buried in Brownwood at 2 p. m. tomorrow. His former wife lives in Richardson, Tex.

He was found dead by a maid in the Del Camino motel and apparently had been dead since Tuesday, since the body was badly decomposed.

Maids who opened his cabin to clean it said they had noticed him earlier, but had supposed he was sleeping and didn't think of checking to see whether anything was wrong.

Trucks Collide, Hit Light Posts; No Injuries

A McKinney Laundry truck, driven by W. H. Long and a Kimbell Milling Co., trailer truck, driven by Omer Anderson Smith, collided on Highway 24, at the entrance to Inwood Road in the Smith-Black addition Monday morning. The accident occurred at 10 a. m. resulting in $200 to the laundry truck; $100 to the trailer truck and about $100 damage to a TP&L Co. light post and wire. The drivers were uninjured.

One of the trucks was thrown into the light post, causing a wire to snap. Power was off for a period of some ten seconds, but was quickly repaired.

Officers Herman Head and Jack Sullivan of the Police Department, investigated the accident.

Liberals Hold Control Of Young Dems Meeting

DALLAS (UP). — The Liberals held control of the Young Democrats of Texas through heated discussions of integration and how to commend the state's top Democrats during the windup session of their convention in Dallas Sunday.

Opposition leader Dusty Rhodes of Abilene Christian College, who charged the "Liberals" used "undemocratic" methods to take the three-day meeting from the "Moderates,' lost his position as vice-president.

Most of the uproar came over integration and resolutions commending Sen. Lyndon Johnson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senator - elect Ralph Yarborough "for their outstanding Service and loyalty to the Democratic party."

◆ ◆ ◆

Amended Resolution.

The Liberals amended it to read "where commedation is appropriate" in the case of Johnson and Rayburn but in the case of Yarborough, "who has always deserved to be commended."

A resolution was passed condemning all segregation bills in the Texas legislature and to "deplore" its efforts to "evade, ignore and discredit the integration decision of the Supreme Court."

Rhodes proposed a substitute resolution "that local school districts are the best group to determine when any steps toward integration can be or should be attempted," and opposing the use of force to overrule local decisions.

It failed. During the session, only one roll-call vote was taken. Convention Chairman Bill Kilgarlin of Houston took voice votes, thereafter saying delegates demanding roll-call votes were trying to delay the convention.

DAV Chief Asks More For Disabled Vets

DALLAS, Tex (UP). — The national commander of the Disabled American Veterans urged Texas DAV members Saturday night to work for legislative support of a bill pending in Congress raising disabled veterans compensation by 10 per cent.

Joseph F. Burke of Bayonne, N. J. said the proposed increase would be the first in three years.

Burke, who will leave Dallas for Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday said he wanted to confer with Texas DAV leaders on trying to increase the organization's membership. The national membership of the DAV is expected to reach 200,000 this year, he said.

As for federal compensation allowances for disabled veterans, Burke said that he felt that the rise in the cost of living over the past three years showed a just reason for increase.

Many members of Congress are in such "budget cutting moods that they are ready to do it at the expense of disabled veterans," he said.

Burke, who was wounded and lost an army at Cassino, Italy, during World War II, is scheduled to address a dinner meeting at 7 p. m. Monday at the Baker Hotel. More than 200 members and leaders from DAV chapters throughout the state are expected to attend.

The national commander arrived here Saturday from Phoenix, Ariz., where he has discussed similar problems with DAV leaders there.

Amendment To "Hot Check" Law Signed By Governor Daniel

An amendemnt to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employes with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel.

Charles T. Lux, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said the new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or an other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had partically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Lux said.

"Now under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to 2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."

Lux said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.

Prosecution of these cases under the Texas "hot check" law was difficult because provisions did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.

Lux said the new amendment and endorsed and supported by the members of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas.
